

1. Consider the stable marriage problem, assume that men made an agreement with each other, in a way that each man chooses exactly one woman to be with. Can they change their ranking of women, such that they achieve their goal?
2. Now assume that women made an agreement with each other. Can they change their ranking of men, such that they achieve their goal?